A Sketch of the Past and the Present

It is seldom we can approve of any editorial of the Advertiser, but we are bound to say that a considerable portion of one which appeared in that paper of the 8th, presents a true sketch of the past. That portion of the article which we thus indorse, is here given:

"Scarcely one short year ago, and the people of the United States were quiet, happy and peaceful in all the enjoyments of life and free-born citizenship. They were harmoniously engaged in all the pursuits of happiness, in all the modes of manufacture, agriculture horticulture, education and general improvement. Science was the great progressive idea of the day, while invention was one of the main supports to our name as an intelligent nation abroad. The youthful mind was being well stored with useful knowledge in all that pertained to future history. At that time the United States could boast, and proudly too, of theological, surgical and legal seminaries, colleges, academies and school houses unsurpassed by any other people. Her navigable lakes and rivers, her fertile valleys, her line of railway, extending almost from circumference to circumference, were sources of pride to every citizen, both high and low. The large, model manufactories of the North, as well as the great and celebrated mercantile emporiums, were the general attractive items of the day; while the cotton and sugar plantations of the South and the productive regions of the West, formerly eulogised by the historian, were the objects or themes upon which the interested American citizen was wont to look with pride and satisfaction."

Such was the state of things one year and a half ago, in the United States. The United States then was the most flourishing nation under heaven, and at the very moment of her highest prosperity, she was struck down. Who did this thing?

For years the spirit of treason, put down by General Jackson, has existed in the South. That spirit determined to rule the country or destroy the Government. Believing that the time had arrived when the democracy of the North would not support the South in her design to make slavery national and freedom sectional, she determined to strike for independence. In thus speaking, we do not assert that the people of the South were by any means anxious for this measure, but her leaders believed it could be effected by "precipitating a revolution," even contrary to their wishes. The plan of the revolution was perfected even before the last Presidential election. Southern politicians purposely introduced a new political doctrine into the party creed, well knowing that the democrats of the North would not indorse it, and that the result would be the nomination of two democrats for the Presidency by the old democratic party, which would secure the election of the republican candidate. In the meantime, long before the election, Southern men, who had control of the Cabinet, labored to disarm the nation and to throw into the possession of the Southern States our Southern forts, arsenals, ships, mints, sub treasuries, and for the same purpose scattered our navy over the world, so that it could not be used to sustain the Government. No honest man will gainsay any of these statements.

We now notice other portions of the article of the Advertiser in question, which misrepresent facts which existed in the country one year and a half since, as well as others at a later period. The Advertiser says:

"The press, the great propelling power of the world, was regarded in its true light and respected with proper regard. The free and liberal expression of opinion upon all subjects and of whatever nature, whether political civil or religious, was at that time, a privilege dear and sacred to every man, woman or child within the realms of the United States."

Every man knows that this statement is not true. In the free States the press was free in discussing political and religious subjects. In the slave States with the exception of those called border States, a free press was not permitted to exist. It did not exist, with but a single exception—that of Parson Brownlow's paper, published in the mountains of Tennessee. "The free and liberal expression of opinion upon all subjects," at the same time did not exist in the slave States, with the exception named. "A free expression of opinion upon all subjects" there was sure to be followed by death, indignity or banishment. We have evidence that men were hung in large numbers for holding sentiments averse to the views of politicians South, and hanging and slaughter of American citizens have followed even suspicion that they were not sympathizers with the South in its rebellious movements. No one doubts these facts. None pretend to deny them.

The Advertiser says on:

"The right of trial by jury was from an unquestionable privilege. The slanderer could then be punished by law. The imprisonment of citizens without due process of law was in a manner unknown to our land."

This is an entire misrepresentation of the matter to which it refers. The South has inaugurated a rebellion. It designed to seize upon our Capital, it raised armies and advanced upon it, threatening to march North upon Philadelphia and New York. There were men and women scattered about in our cities more especially in Washington, who were in league with the rebels—aiding and assisting them with information—and were more dangerous than those who had arms in their hands. Were these traitors to be permitted to progress in their machinations until they could be tried by juries—probably juries made up of traitors like themselves? Every man who loves the Union can promptly answer this question.

Again the Advertiser says:

"The right to serve God according to the dictates of conscience was a blessed privilege which no one gainsayed. But, fellow citizens, how is it to-day? Are you in the enjoyment of all those great privileges? Is not the freedom of the press and of free speech abridged?"

In the free States the right to serve God according to the dictates of conscience is not abridged nor is the privilege of serving God to advance the interests of Jeff Davis abridged. In the Southern States, we are not aware that the worship of God is permitted unless connected with serving the rebel Government. We know that in Texas and Missouri, Methodist ministers have been hung for holding sentiments opposed to this rebellion. Very properly persons and presses in the interest of rebellion where their course is dangerous to the Government, are subjected to imprisonment and exclusion from the Government mails. Does the Advertiser deny that traitors and traitor presses shall be permitted to labor to crush the Government which protects them?

Again:

"Are our friends in the North happy in the pursuits above mentioned? Are our brethren of the South in the enjoyment of the same pleasures that they possessed prior to the advent of the Republican party in power? Are not the beautiful farms of the North and East as well as the plantations of the South and West now scenes of loneliness and desolation? Are not the streets of New York Philadelphia, Baltimore, Cincinnati, St Louis, Memphis and New Orleans filled with men, woman and innocent children crying for bread?"

Our brethren of the North are not responsible for the present condition of the country. The intimation that the South has suffered wrongs by the "advent of the republican party," is a gross libel on truth. The rebellion was inaugurated before the republican party went into power. The people in the exercise of their constitutional rights elected a President. The rebels sought to prevent his inauguration, and were in full arms against the Government before he took the Presidential chair. The people did no wrong in electing him. The people have a right to elect whom they please under the Constitution. When that ceases to be the case our republican institutions are at an end. Dreadful have been and will be the sufferings of our people on account of this rebellion. The South is responsible for them, and she will drink the bitter dregs of punishment for her crime—her crime against the Constitution herself, and humanity over the world.

The Advertiser continues:

"Is not your country, riddled of it as you are by this Black Republican Abolition, now Union party) taxed to destruction—aye we glad down by taxation unjust and which would have been uncalled for had this same traitorous band regarded with patriotic interest the great offices of Stephen A. Douglas and John J. Crittenden? Such are facts."

It is easy to call names. The veriest blackguard does this. It is his main capital in trade. Who caused this war? Republicans? How did they do it? By electing a President? For that is all they have done of which complaint seems to be made. They were not in power when this rebellion commenced. Who has caused taxation? The republican party? They did not make the war—they were opposed to the war—the administration made no efforts to strike back until it was evident that the rebels designed to break up the government. To sustain the government—to put down the rebels—will cause taxation. Are republicans to blame for this? Would this Advertiser recommend that Jeff Davis should be permitted to sail over this country, on the ruins of this government to save taxation? Is this the view of the editor and the party he represents? It looks very much as if it were so. He would prefer the government of Jeff Davis to taxation. We do not. That is the plain difference between us.

For the hundredth time the Advertiser has rung the changes on Senator Crittenden's resolutions. He tells us the northern men were traitors because they did not all support them, but he has not a word to say of the Southern Senators who refused to vote for them. The Southern Senators were right, in the estimation of the Advertiser, and the Northern Senators were wrong for not endeavoring to force them resolutions on the South. The Advertiser sees a vast difference between two flea-bites and two-thirds.

The Advertiser closes by this mock heroic, terrific paragraph:

And are you not this moment threatened with imprisonment if you dare whimper in opposition to Abraham Lincoln and his party—which he by his own words and actions, has proven to be more or less than an abolition party to the backbone. Their cry is—Democrat dare but say you are a democrat use but one word that is not of a submissive character to his Majesty, Abraham and your property will be confiscated for the benefit of an Abolition party. God of Heaven protect the right—for freedom is no more!

Here is a paper that has been for months defending Jeff Davis and his party in our midst—has declared its sympathy with his party—has prayed for its success—has denounced those who rejoice in the success of our national arms in sustaining the government as worse than traitors—and still this paper is published here and it has numerous friends who countenance and support it—Ultra facts give the lie to the declarations of the editor.

It is true we sneer at the appropriation of the name of God meant by the Jeff Davis party—it is stealing the livery of heaven to serve the devil in—it is made a cloak to cover the deformities of treason—for the Advertiser is as deeply steeped in treason, and utters as treasonable sentiments as it dares to do. If it were in Memphis it would be another Avalanche.

In the emergency which has been brought upon the country by Southern traitors we know but two parties now—one for the Union and the other opposed to it. In Oregon the lines between these parties are nearly drawn—there is no mistaking them. As stated by the Bonaparte the secessionists controlled the Corvallis convention. The candidates named by it were they in the South would all be Jeff Davis men—and for the Southern Confederacy. The candidates nominated at Eugene were all Union men—and will be under all circumstances, now and forever.

Precinct Meeting

Pursuant to notice the Union Precinct convened at Brownsville on the 3d day of May and organized by electing Jonathan Kuney chairman of the meeting and Nathan Hull, secretary. The meeting proceeded by ballot to elect the delegates to the Linn county Union Convention to be held at Lebanon on Saturday the 10th inst. The balloting resulted in the choice of John A. Dunlap, Jonathan Kuney, W. R. Kirk, Sidney Smith and C. A. Williams. After which the following resolutions were offered and adopted:

Resolved, That we will support the constitution of the United States of America and assist Mr. Lincoln or any other President that may hereafter be constitutionally elected to enforce the laws, maintain order and suppress rebellion whether it comes from South or North in Abolitionists.

2d. Resolved, That we are opposed to any peace other than the honorable one sure to come when rebels and their sympathizers submit to the constitutionally elected authorities of the Republic.

3d. Resolved, That we pledge ourselves to a cordial and active support of the nominees of the Union State Convention, and also that we will pledge ourselves to a cordial and active support of the nominees of the Union County Convention to be held at Lebanon on the 17th of May, A. D. 1862.

On motion Joseph Pearl and the Rev. James Worth were put in nomination for Justices of the Peace, of Brownsville precinct, who were unanimously elected as nominees for that office, and W. R. Kirk and Thomas Kirk were chosen nominees for Constable.

On motion copies of the proceedings of this meeting were ordered to be sent to the Oregonian, Oregon Statesman and State Republican for publication. Adjourned.

JONATHAN KUNY, Ch'n.

NATHAN HULL, Sec'y.

SYMPATHY WITH REBELLION.—The Advertiser in its selecting from other papers, shows its sympathy with rebellion. Formerly its extracts were from the Day Book, when that paper was stopped, from the Canvasson—then from the Brooklyn Eagle—then from the New York Journal of Commerce—and in fact, every paper which has been published in the loyal States and which engaged in the service of the enemy has found special admirers and copyists in the Portland Advertiser. The California Mountain Democrat another one of the papers, is still existing. And what better could be expected of the Advertiser which murmurs at the success of the federal armies rejoices in their defeats, and which prays for their destruction.

THERE IS NO TRUCE.—It is said that a candidate on the State Secession ticket, expresses himself in this wise to a brother secessionist on hearing of the victory at Pittsburgh Landing. "I have more confidence now that the federals will be ultimately defeated, than I did after the conquest of Fort Sumter." That's a pretty man to figure in public office in a loyal State.

It is authoritatively stated in the Advertiser of Wednesday, that the Republican party has run its course and will only live hereafter in the pages of history. It died in giving birth to its first victory. We presume—if the Advertiser is still to be believed—that we shall hear no more of the republican party or republicans in that veritable paper.

Measures have been adopted by leading republicans and Union democrats of California to unite in the formation of an amalgamation party for the coming election, on the basis of supporting the Union and the measures of the Government designed to sustain it. The secessionists, of which the California Mountain Democrat is a type, are greatly incensed thereat.

MONEY CHEAP.—We find the following advertisement in the San Francisco journals:

"Cash Money Cheap.—For sale in lots to suit purchasers, Confederate Treasury Notes of the denomination of $50 and $10, at the rate of $3 per $100. A large discount to those purchasing out speculation. Apply at 604 Mission street, two doors from Second."

DR. HALE'S BALSAM.—This popular and truly valuable medicine continues to effect the most astonishing cures and the statements from citizens are entitled to credit. We would call the attention of every CONSUMPTIVE and sufferer generally all who are troubled with any disease of the throat or lungs to

☞ The attention of the Ladies and Gentlemen is respectfully solicited to the new styles of DRESS GOODS and CLOTHING just received by the steamer Constitution, French Poplins, Bareges, Challis D'Beges, Silks, Grecian Rhines, Delaines, Dress Trimmings, French Hats, New Style Bonnets, and the latest styles of Ladies Gents de Rhein Cloaks together with a full assortment of Spring Shawls, Bonnet Silks, Spring Ragians, French Cloth Sacks, Business Suits, Summer Ragians, French Cloth Frock Coats, Doeskin Pants, Light Silk Vests and New Style Hats, all intended expressly for the present season. All goods are now ready for sale, and can be seen at HARKER'S, opposite the Custom House.

☞ Coughs.—The sudden changes of our climate are productive of Pulmonary, Bronchial and Asthmatic Affections. Experience, however, has proved that simple remedies often effectually and certainly when taken in the early stages of the disease, relieve and should at once be had recourse to. Brown's Bronchial Troches or Lozenges let the Cold, Cough or Irritation of the throat be ever so slight as by their occasional use more serious attack may be effectually warded off. Public Speakers and Singers will find them equally beneficial in clearing and strengthening the voice. Sold by all druggists throughout the country at 25 cents per box.

NEWSPAPERARCHIVE®

The Daily Oregonian.

CITY.

The MORNING OREGONIAN has a larger SUBSCRIPTION LIST than any other Daily published in this City.

THE DAILY OREGONIAN may be had at the Express Bookstore, opposite the Post Office.

BOB BERRY.—This notorious rascal has again made his appearance in our city, and before the Recorder, as usual. He was caught in the act of trying to enter a cigar store on Monday night for which he was sent to the county jail to await the next session of the Circuit Court.

DECLINED.—W. W. Page declines being a candidate for Judge of this Judicial District, as stated in a public speech recently made at the theatre in this city. We presume that A. D. Shattuck will be the only candidate in the field for that office.

THE RIVER.—The Wallamette has risen four inches and a half during the twenty four hours previous to seven o'clock last night.

TAKEN BACK.—A volunteer belonging to the Washington Territory regiment was arrested as a deserter in this city yesterday, and taken back to Vancouver.

IN THE RIVER.—The bark Sheet Anchor, from San Francisco, is in the Columbia river, and for this port.

LIEUT. MULLAN'S MAP.—We have been shown a well executed map of the country lying between Walla Walla and the Coeur d'Alene Mission. It was drawn by the hand of Lieut. Mullan's Wagon Road Expedition. The map can be seen at the Express Bookstore, Front street.

HIGH WAGES.—We know of farmers in this city who pay their hired hands fifty dollars per month.

HIGH WATER.—It is feared that the Columbia River will be higher during this and next month than for many years previous, and that the river should prepare accordingly.

From the Inventor of the Monitor.

The following admirable letter from Mr. Ericsson is worthy of its author.

NEW YORK, March 11, 1862.—My dear Sir: I accept with great pleasure your congratulations, and assure you that every exertion shall be made on my part to furnish the country with war vessels that will enable us to defy Europe. Give me only the requisite means, and in a very short time we can say to the powers now bent on destroying Republican freedom, leave the gulf with your navy or perish. I have all my life asserted that mechanical science will put an end to the supremacy of England over the seas. The ocean is nature's highway between the nations, and surely nature's highway should be free and surely nature's highway properly applied, will make it so. Yours very truly, J. ERICSSON.

To Sergeant, Boston.

It was an unfortunate day for Secessia when the Monitor arrived in Hampton Roads. Until the progress of the Merrimac—I mean that port—and changed the feature of war in that quarter.

Ericsson has been directed to build a number of the model of the Monitor, but with improvements. A new era is involved in the character of vessels destined to fight naval battles and defend harbors. They are to be built of iron. Congress has very properly ordered one of them to be constructed for the defence of San Francisco, &c.

The men of Pennsylvania are rejoicing in the great prospective demand for their iron. We forget that immense deposit of iron ore a few miles above this city—and the demand for iron to arm the forts and ships required for the defence of

From Walla Walla

WALLA WALLA, May 10th, 1862.

EDITOR OREGONIAN:

Since my last, nothing new has transpired here. There has been no shooting matches and but a small number of fights for several days past. Everything is quiet. There is a good number of persons coming from the mines and all who do come in from that region report favorably; but I wish that I could say the same about Powder River. At this time, quite a number of miners are coming in from the latter place, some of whom are inclined to report unfavorably. I will say, the immense quantities of snow in the Blue Mountains and also in the mines almost wholly prevents travel from the mines, and much more a thorough prospecting.

Last week, we have had a varied combination of entertainment. Mr. Kelly who visited our city a visit sometime since met with success at first but the people failed to appreciate his rare abilities. Mr. and Mrs. Ruby and Mr. Harris arrived a few days since. This company with whom we are well acquainted have made an engagement with Mr. Robinson. Their entertainments commenced on Thursday evening, with the beautiful play of the "Phantom." This evening we are to be presented with the tragedy of Macbeth. Mr. and Mrs. Ruby did not appear in the Phantom, but in rendering the entire company appears. We anticipate the best dramatic entertainment ever witnessed in Walla Walla. L. M. P.

WELL DONE.—The Oswego Times says that at a recent wedding in that city the bridesmaid, being an army officer wore his sabre during the nuptials. A little wide awake young man of the bride was attracted by the display of weapons, and as he has an other sister to love 'as a carpenter he boldly asked "Ma, when J. comes to marry will he wear his saw and hatchet by

Information of James B. Hughes Wanted.

JAMES B. HUGHES is supposed to have been a resident of Portland, Oregon. For several years past his friends in Michigan have not heard from him. A short time since it was learned by his friends in Michigan that he had been at the mines at the latter part of March 1862 and that he had a large amount of property in person. He was a short and thick set man, dark complexion, sharp-featured, and by occupation a lumber dealer and commission merchant; was extensively engaged in a planing mill—His present age [illegible] would be about forty-one years. He went to California in 1854. His former residence was Chicago, Ill. It is supposed he left a wife and two children, but that is unascertained.

Should any citizen of Oregon or Washington Territory or California, possess any knowledge of this James B. Hughes, and will communicate the same to the editor of this paper or the undersigned, he or she will be rewarded which will be duly acknowledged.

Dietz's Diamond Oil.

WE NOW OFFER TO THE PUBLIC in full confidence a new article of

KEROSENE OIL,

Which we warrant never to part with, and to be

Superior to any other Oil ever brought to the Pacific Coast. It has been thoroughly tested in all the different Eastern Coal Oil Burners, and found to produce by one third than any other oil in use.

Among the many advantages of the KEROSENE OIL over other oils are: First, that it is perfectly NON-EXPLOSIVE and can be used with perfect safety in all kinds of LAMPS. Second, It is free from all offensive smells and burns with a pleasant smell and turns with a clear white brilliant flame. We cordially invite the public to call and give our Oil a trial and if after using it they do not find it worth a preference over all other Oils for burning well as the cheapest, we request them not to purchase.

In order to protect ourselves against counterfeits we have placed a brass plate on each can and case which will be known as

DIETZ'S DIAMOND OIL.

It is now offered at wholesale and retail at 505 Front street,

Between Washington and Jackson streets,

An Exhibition Store also at 56 Second street,

2d door from Mission, San Francisco.

The Closest Shave of My Life.

BY A LONDON DETECTIVE

"'Ah! you will have it then,' he cried, and rushed toward me

I thrust him aside with the heavy chair, and lifting it high in the air, brought it down crashing upon him He sank for a second, but rose quickly again He was heavier than I and twice as strong, I suppose Persons who have thus been in positions of great danger will not be astonished to hear that I forgot after my first effort to call out at all I only thought of defending myself

This state of things did not last a quarter of a minute He would have beaten me down contemptible, had I not in sheer desperation, made use of a trick which I had once before seen successfully employed I moved my eyes suddenly from him, and stared wildly into the open space behind him, pointing at the same time and in the same direction with my arm By a lucky chance I pointed to the window

I think that movement saved my life

He stopped irresolute, glanced at the window, flung his hands over his head, gasped as if he were choking, and, dashing the razor against the stone wall, fell trembling upon his knees As I stepped swiftly across the floor, he called out to me

"Don't go, don't go! Stand there at the door if you choose, but wait a minute It's all over now, and, perhaps, if you hear me, you won't wonder that I was driven mad'

I hardly knew how to act, but as I involuntarily checked my steps, he continued:

"Look out at the window, sir, and you will see just over the road, a woman with a child in her arms, standing in a doorway That's my wife and baby—my poor wife and baby She doesn't know I am here—thank God for that I came here under a wrong name and she supposes I am far away at sea I am sure it would break her heart to know the truth Well, sir, that's my home I have seen it and I have seen her every day these three months It used to make me crazy, but I bear it better now But this chance—this great chance—was too much for me And to think that I came near losing all hope of ever seeing her again'

Could I doubt those struggling tears and sobs? There was truth in every tone I looked through the window, and saw as he told me, a woman standing on a threshold opposite with a child She tossed it up laughingly once or twice and disappeared

"You won't trust me, I know," said the prisoner. "But I want to beg you not to let the warden know of this It's no use, I know Well, I swear, that I'll be true to home after this Nothing but three years solitary now, and who can live through that? No, no, you'll let this go by, won't you? You may believe me—you may indeed"

Feet shuffling along the passage announced the return of my companions The prisoner endeavored to calm himself, and I put on an air of unconcern which I think under the circumstances

"Not shaved yet?" said the warden astonished If he had but known how close a shave I had been through

"I have broken my razor,' said Johnson looking appealingly at me "See sir, I must have another"

"Very well," said the warden "Will you wait?" he asked me

"I think not," said I "Another time will do as well

So I wiped my face, and we went on our way

Of course I was bound to tell the warden what had happened, but even in that great excitement which naturally followed so narrow an escape, I think that I set forward all that I could in the poor fellow's favor The warden received the story with perfect composure, and assured me that he would act in such a manner as he thought the occasion need'd He condemned his own heedlessness in opening so evident an opportunity for guilt, with much more earnestness than he spoke of the event itself

I could not resist visiting the wife of Johnson I discovered that his story was true, and learned his real name She was happy in her ignorance of his real condition I sought to ascertain whether she was able to sustain herself until he should rejoin her, then she told me that Mr the warden of the prison had also come to her, shown interest in her behalf, for which she could not well account, and assured her of his aid and protection in any need that might come to her. She was most grateful but wondered why he had done so

A few months ago the following newspaper paragraph appeared It was much copied and I suppose will be readily remembered

"It is the custom at the prison of D , to permit prisoners whose terms are within a few weeks of expiration, to work outside the walls under the supervision of an officer This privilege is in most cases gladly accepted A few weeks ago, however, it was declined by a man who, as his time of freedom drew near, appeared more restless under his confinement than any others On inquiry it was found that this prisoner had a wife and child living directly within view of the walls, and that for nearly three years he had seen her daily, she living all the while ignorant of his imprisonment and supposing that her husband who was a sailor, was at sea on a long voyage He was unwilling that at the last moment the fact should be revealed to her, and at his own request he continued within the walls until his liberation, which took place last week Excepting on one occasion, his conduct while in prison has been without blemish'

Marlyeux, a celebrated French writer of romances having one day met with a sturdy beggar, who asked charity of him replied

"My good friend, strong and stout as you are it is a shame that you do not go to work"

"Ah, master," said the beggar, "if you did but know how lazy I am"

"Well, you are a candid scoundrel, so here is half a crown for you"

A GOOD SEWING MACHINE

SHOULD BE WELL MADE, simple in its construction and easily kept in order, should make a stitch alike on both sides of the material and should sew any and all materials that can be sewed

It should have a tension, thread or silk drawn from the spool, and to sew from coarse to fine and from thick to thin with rapidity and without changing the tension That should also be able to make the tension greater or less on both the under and upper threads and with uniformity, and should have a straight needle curved needles being liable to break

The needle should have perpendicular motion—this is absolutely necessary for heavy work

It should be able to bind with a binder hem with a hemmer, should stitch, full, run and gather and should always ready to work

It should be capable of using the same size thread on both sides of the work instead of using different colored thread for each, as is the case with any two colors of cloth to be united

It should be able to make a long or short stitch and to fasten off the seam, and commence sewing tightly at the first stitch, and to run easily, and make but little noise

It should have a wheel feed, no others are in constant contact with the work

It should not be liable to get out of order, neither should it require a screw driver or wrench to set the needle

It should be liable to tell the operator when to adjust

It should not form a ridge on the under side and ravel

Of all diseases the first originate in Springs from neglect of Nature's laws

To the Afflicted

Suffer not when a cure is guaranteed in all stages of secret disease—Self Abuse, Nervous Debility, Seminal Weakness, Involuntary Discharges, Gleet, Gravel, Diabetes, diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder, Mercurial Rheumatism, Scrofula, Pains in the Bones and Joints, diseases of the Lungs, Throat, Nose and Eyes, Ulcers upon the Body or Limbs, Cancers, Tetter, Epileptic Fits, St. Vitus' Dance—and all diseases arising from a derangement of the Sexual Organs—such as Nervousness, Debility, Loss of Memory, Loss of Power, General Weakness, Dimness of Vision with peculiar aptness appearing before the eyes, Loss of Sight, Weak Kidneys, Dyspepsia, Liver Diseases, Eruptions on the Face, Pains in the Back and Head, Female Irregularities, and all kinds of Urethral discharges of both sexes. It matters not from what cause the disease originated, however long standing or inveterate the case, recovery is certain, and in a short time than any treatment can be effected by any other treatment even after the disease has baffled the skill of eminent physicians and resisted all their remedies. The most times powerful and painful without the use of dangerous mercurials, poisonous minerals, or from the use of Sarsaparilla. During fifteen years of practice in Europe the Atlantic States and California, I have received from the pens of thousands who in the last stages of the above mentioned diseases had been given up by the faculty this assurance, which warrants me in promising to the afflicted who may place themselves under my care a speedy and permanent cure Private diseases are the greatest enemies to health, as they are the first cause of consumption, scrofula and many other diseases and should be a warning to the human family A permanent cure is scarcely ever effected—a majority of cases falling into the hands of incompetent persons who not only fail to cure the disease but ruin the constitution filling the system with mercury which will cause the disease to break out in the form of consumption, scrofula, &c. But should the disease not be the immediate cause of death speedily and the victim marks the downward road filled up with the children who mourn his early fate, sometimes as the result of their own folly, to reflect on the sad fate of the unfortunate husband, the wife, the father, the mother, the sister, the brother and lingering suffering, the misery of existence of suffering and misfortune, from an early grave

Self abuse in early life produces nervousness, debility, pimples on the face, aversion to society, blotches, seminal weakness, pains in the back, dimness of sight, loss of memory, universal lassitude of the muscular system, hot hands, flushing of the body, dreadful dreams, timidity, trembling, wakefulness, bashfulness, cold feet, restlessness, frequent blushing, wretchedness, confusion of ideas, depression of spirits, evil forebodings, aversion to company, love of solitude, self distrust, loss of confidence, lowness of spirits, unfitness to perform the duties of married life, a dread of some impending evil, palpitation of the heart, indigestion, constipation, dullness of the head, frequent headache, blushing, trembling, sudden flushes of heat, loss of sexual power, dimness of vision or giddiness, nervous irritability, seminal emissions during sleep, which if not cured, always produces consumption, insanity or epilepsy, and a host of other evils. Organic weakness, the result of self abuse in youth, is the most frequent cause of impotency, barrenness, or sterility in married life. Persons who imagine themselves diseased from the use of mercury, or from the use of Sarsaparilla, or from any other cause, should not fail to consult Dr. L. J. Czapkay, who will guarantee a speedy and permanent cure. Persons who have been under the treatment of other physicians, and have been unsuccessfully treated for the above diseases, should not despair, but call upon Dr. L. J. Czapkay. His method of curing diseases is new, quick and certain. Here is one of the great secrets of his success. All consultations by letter or otherwise free

Remarkable Instance of Medical Relief

Below we publish the certificate of the gentleman referred to, from the pains of disease, who having secured their former health and impelled by gratitude make known their cases and relief that others may be benefited. The statements are authenticated by a Notary Public. The diseases they suffered under are common, which in many instances are considered incurable by the faculty. Such cases should not be neglected, but immediate application be made to the Doctor, who has had very extensive practice in the treatment of these diseases, and is entitled to the confidence of the afflicted. Those who are in search of a reliable party or who may feel inclined to consult a physician, should call on the Doctor, as he is a gentleman of honor and integrity, and will not deceive the afflicted. Remember the Doctor's office is on Sacramento street, between Montgomery and Kearny, opposite the Pacific Mail Steamship Company's office, where he can be consulted daily, from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M. and from 6 to 8 P. M. Those who are unable to visit the Doctor's office, can write for his Circular, containing questions, which will be answered promptly, and medicines sent to any part of the country, with directions for use. Persons writing for medicines will please enclose $10, and state age, occupation, and how long afflicted. Medicines sent by express, C. O. D. Office hours from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M. and from 6 to 8 P. M.

SPERMATORRHŒA or LOCAL WEAKNESS, nervous debility, insanity, low spirits, weakness of the limbs and back, trembling, stiff tongue, dizziness, forgetfulness, lethargy, self distrust, loss of energy, aversion to society, love of solitude, timidity, self-distrust, dizziness, loss of confidence, involuntary discharges, pains in the side, affections of the eyes, pimples in the face, sexual and other infirmities in man, are cured by the justly celebrated physician and surgeon, Dr. L. J. Czapkay. His method of curing diseases is new, quick and certain. Here is one of the great secrets of his success. All consultations by letter or otherwise free night followed by involuntary discharges have all disappeared and in fact in two months after having commenced the doctor I felt as if inspired by a new life—that life which but a short time ago I contemplated to end by my own hand With the view to guard the unfortunate from falling into the snares of incompetent quacks I deem it my duty to offer this testimony to the merit and skill of Dr Czapkay and recommend him to all who may stand in need of medical advice, being assured by my own experience, that one under his care a radical and permanent cure will be effected.

Subscribed and sworn to before me, this seventh day of April A D 1866 Signed

MARYSVILLE, June 24, 1865

DR L J CZAPKAY San Francisco—Sir I have used the last of your medicine and do not think I shall need any more as I feel very well, except that I have not entirely got my strength yet but soon will with the appetite I have. It is just three weeks you may recollect, since I called at your institute, with my constitution as I thought, broken entirely and never thought you would be able to cure me perfectly but thought you might be able to do something to ease the pain in my back and head, and strengthen me a little I would not get excited and try it at everything Now that you know what I expected, you may judge of my satisfaction at my complete recovery from those nasty sores and the removal of those worts and blotches from my skin and the ulcers from my throat and the entire purging of those enemies which you said were part of the cause of my sickness I can hardly tell you which is the greatest my joy or my surprise for except not having taken quite my strength I feel as well as any man can feel.

I send you herewith twenty dollars over your fee and think myself cheaply cured If you think anybody will be benefited you may put this letter in the newspapers. In severe gratefully yours, THOMAS HAYDEN

Thankfulness is the incentive to gratitude

CERTIFICATE—Prompted by an honest desire of my heart, I wish to lay before the public a case which deserves commendation not only as an act of scientific skill, but that of humanity also About two years ago, I suddenly, and from causes unknown unto me, was seized with a fit of illness which owing to my inability to meet the expenses consequent upon thorough medical treatment and the distressing ailment which I met with in attempting it, soon became such (I was then led to believe) as to defy the skill of any physician I was frequently, while in pursuit of my calling, thrown down to the ground without the slightest warning and although insensible to the agonies I yet felt of the miseries of my life and soon learned to look upon them as would render assistance or shelter me from danger as the medics who sought to prolong the existence of my friend While in this state and having previous to my illness tasted the sweets of life I once more was induced to seek the aid of a physician and by recommendation called upon Dr. L. J Czapkay I told him of my distressing case and of my inability to reward him for his services, to which he with a generous heart undertook my case, and with the blessing of God I was once more restored to perfect health I unable to reward him for the boon which I enjoy at present as I feel conscious I am indebted to him I myself and all afflicted to make the case public, in order that those in need of medical advice may find a physician in whom every confidence can be placed
